Our Dear and Esteemed Alumni,

Greetings from your alma mater Martin Luther Christian University. We hope that this message finds you well in the best of health and spirit.

We would like to assure you that during these times of unprecedented challenging crisis brought on humanity and the society by the COVID-19 pandemic, all of you are in our thoughts and prayers along with your family and dear ones.

Your alma mater MLCU has always been committed to societal services. You would be glad to know that this time too we are doing our best to meet the pandemic challenges not only on our own but also in cooperation with our government and committed individuals like you.

We have contributed to the Chief Minister's COVID-19 Fund and also joined hands with local NGO from Shillong to reach out to some poor rural communities to supplement in their livelihoods in East Khasi Hills.

In the academic front, with the suspension of regular classroom teaching since March 2020, our faculty, staff and students have been quickly able to switchover to online mode of teaching and learning with timely achievements of academic results.

The University has a special section in the website on its COVID-19 response. The different departments and academic entities have been meeting regularly through virtual mode to conduct webinar on specific themes of current interest.

We are happy to note that the Alumni have been our constant pillar of support for the University and also great contributor to community and society building. Today, your alma mater, the MLCU urges you to intensify your efforts to serve the society in whatever form you can from wherever you may be located.

Building on the core values of your alma mater, MLCU, let us resolve that together, we can enrich each other's lives, and nourish humanity with greater unity of purpose with the hope and determination of building a better society, a better world.

We are confident that wherever you may be and in whatever position you may be engaged with, we sincerely hope that you are contributing diligently in the service of the community and the society at this critical juncture of COVID-19 pandemic.

We will be delighted to know about your efforts and experiences in your services of the community and the society at large. We urge you to tell us about your stories that will be inspirational to us. Kindly share your stories of experiences by writing to us at mlcualumniassociation@gmail.com

Stay safe and healthy always.

With best wishes,
